

Bradley Closes Season Without Conference Loss

HAHS BREAKS SCORING RECORD

In its last scheduled game of the season before a sizeable crowd last Saturday evening, the Bradley high school basketball team walloped a scrappy Cardinal five from St. Anne by a score of 61 to 31. This was Bradley's 26th triumph in 28 appearances on the hardwood while it meant the 12th victory with no losses in the Kankakee Valley conference. The Bollermakers' closest pursuer in this title race turned out to be Grant Park with 10 wins and two losses.

Some of the outstanding facts in the years conference setto was as follows: Little Bonfield's surprising team that ended up for the first time above the cellar position by winning four games; Momen's strong quintet who, in my estimation, rated second to Bradley but ended up in fifth place with a total of six to six; Reddick's misfortune in using an ineligible Herscher transfer student and thus having to forfeit three games which had already been won.

Bradley Steps Out.
The Laffey coached five stepped out early in the game with deft accuracy at the hoop and with Fred Beach, a substitute, filling in nicely for Frank Marlaire, who had been ill the day of the game. Bradley looked very good in those opening minutes and continued to do so, but St. Anne's eyes were glued on W. Meier, small guard for the Cardinals who sank some very long and accurate shots for 11 points. Tallman also took his share of the fight with 4 free throws and 5 field goals for 14 markers.

HAHS BREAKS STATE RECORD

LaVerne Hahs, Bradley's All-State center from last year, tipped in 22 points to run his season's total thus far to 497 points, the sum of which breaks the unofficial state record of 485 made by Ob-long's Sprowl a few years back. His closest pursuers are Eddie-man of Centralia and Smanuelson of Coal City. Emanuelson has 487 points. Bob Martin holds down eighth place with a total of 374 points which was helped greatly by the 19 scores he rang up against St. Anne. Both Hahs and Martin scored many of these points on rebound and tip-up shots.

Bradley led at the end of each quarter as follows: 19 to 5, 35 to 18, and 43 to 25.

Lightweights Win.

Bradley's lightweights, coached by Earl Jones, rang up their 10th conference victory against 2 losses, both suffered at the hands of Momen, in beating the St. Ann lightweights, 35 to 17.

Bradley's outstanding performances in this game were turned in by Casino who collected 13 points for the evening and Knickerbocker, a substitute who collected 6 points on three spectacular field goals. This game was the last lightweight affair for the following—Willie Ponickvar, John Casino, and Virgil. The reason for this is that these boys are juniors and seniors, which they will be next year, are not allowed to play in lightweight games. However, they will all likely move up to the heavyweight squad, which loses 7 men this year, along with Leonard Bujnowski, a promising sophomore, and Ray Ignatowicz, a freshman who turned in some grand games of ball this year. Bradley still has some good teams coming up in the future, even though they may not get to the state meet as did last year's team. These teams will be the best choice for future Valley conference championships, and "don't say I didn't tell you" as Mark Hellinger would say.

The teams record was 17 wins and 6 defeats. They placed second in the Kankakee Valley conference also, which was won by Momen.

Outstanding freshmen this year were Ray Ignatowicz, Don Martin, Harold Knickerbocker, Richard Kinnemann, and Bill Burkhalter.

GRADE SCHOOL TEAM WHIPS MANTENO

Not very many people in Bradley realize it but Bradley public grade school has an undefeated basketball team. Although the team hasn't met very many opponents, they have defeated Herscher twice, St. Anne twice, Momen once, St. Pot's once and last Monday they defeated the previously unbeaten team from Manteno. Manteno grade school. Manteno has had a good season this year and has played some strong teams.

This year's grade team is made up of mostly eighth graders. Willis Humphrey is the only seventh grader playing. The work of Earl Begnoche at guard has been outstanding all season. He can dribble, pass, shoot, rebound and guard as good as the average high school player.

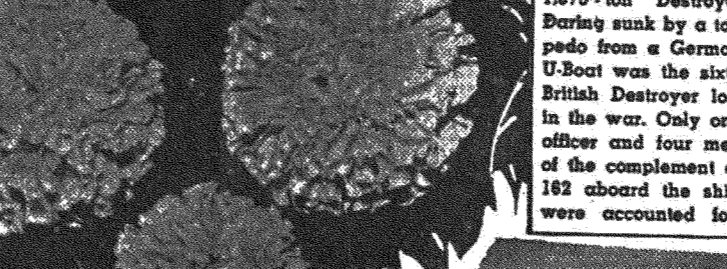

Leroy Pangle is playin' center, is slightly over six feet tall, and has a good one-hand shot as well as being valuable at rebounds. La-verne Wertz plays one of the forward positions and is another six-footer. The rest of the squad is made up of McQueary, Coll, H. Kinnemann, Klimas, and Gibson.

Next Monday at 3:45 in the Bradley gym, the game for the city championship will be played between St. Joe grade team and Bradley public grade school team. Then on the following Tuesday the team will go to Manteno for a return game. On Saturday Bradley will play in the Kankakee grade school tournament, the most in which it is one of the favorites.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT!

Bradley proceeded to win their first game in the Regional tournament being held at the Kankakee high school gym. They played Peotone last night and won by a score of 45 to 15 or 3 to 1.

Hahs proceeded to roll up 15 points and Martin tacked 11 more points onto his fine record. The rest of the boys did equally well.

If you want to see a fine game go to Kankakee high tonight. Bradley will play their toughest game in this tournament when they face Momen. Due to the fast breaking style of Momen, this game promises to be a hard fought duel and anything might happen. Momen should not be underestimated, they have a good team and a fast one.

Bradley will no doubt play Kankakee tomorrow night if these two strong quintets merge victorious from tonight's battle.

Support your team. Go to the game tonight and Saturday.

WEEKLY PING PONG NEWS

The Senior girls Ping Pong club met last night, Thursday, for their weekly meeting. A good deal of interest is being shown in this club and it is growing rapidly. Dorothy Schultz, last weeks ladder tournament leader successfully defended her position. This weeks leaders are Dorothy Schultz and Maxine Roles. The girls have been unable to get competition for tournaments so far but would still like some matches.

The Boys Junior and Senior clubs met Tuesday at their regular time of 4:00 till 5:30 and 7:00 till 9:00 respectively. In the Junior club Charles Elkins retained the first place position he gained last week. Daniel Bertrand remained in second place.

In the Senior club Joe Moisant beat back all challengers for his coveted top position. Joe, a left handed player with about 8 years experience, plays a remarkable game. Depending a great deal on defense, he sometimes goes 20 feet back of the table to bring back a hard driven ball. Although largely defensive player, he has a fast drive when the opportunity shows. Gilbert LaFave, being absent, remained in second place. The call for opposition is still out in these two clubs.

PUBLIC RECREATION AT ST. ROSE GYM

The St. Rose Gymnasium, located in the St. Rose Boys School is open to boys over 15 years old on Tuesday and Friday nights between 7 and 9 o'clock. It is under the supervision of the Kankakee Recreation Association but the use of the facilities have been donated by the St. Rose Parish. Basketball and ping pong are the two main activities engaged in at the gym. Ray Hutson, Recreation Director is in charge. The public is invited to participate.

MOTOR TAXES

The amount paid in motor vehicle taxes during 1938 was greater than the total income received by manufacturers for automobiles sold throughout the entire country in that year. The total wholesale value of all motor vehicles put on the United States market in 1938 was one billion, four hundred dollars, while federal, state and local motor taxes amounted to one billion, five hundred and twenty-nine million dollars or an average of $51.87 per vehicle.

EARLY CONVENTION FINDS PLENTIFUL HOSPITALITY

In these days when several Illinois cities have enough hotels to entertain thousands of delegates to conventions, it is not easy to appreciate fully the sense of pride felt by civic leaders in 1847 when Chicago entertained the River and Harbor convention. Over 20,000 persons came to the state as visitors, and of this number 10,000 were delegates to the great meeting.

In view of the undeveloped condition of nation-wide transportation at that time, says the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A., the convention established another remarkable record by bringing representatives from 16 states.

Meet Stenstrom

PROPER INSURANCE

This week witness the arrival of a new insurance man in Bradley. However, don't mistake him for the average "past time" insurance man. He works it as a business seven days a week, and it is the only business he has.

We have known him for some time and can absolutely vouch for him. He sells the finest insurance money can buy and that isn't all, he personally takes care of you after he sells you the policy.

Too many insurance men go into the business as a "side line" to pick up extra money. They are interested in selling you the policy so they can get their commission, but you have a devil of a time getting service when something goes wrong.

One of Stenstroms strongest selling points is the fact that he never attempts to load you up with insurance or sell you a policy you can't afford. His motto is, "Insurance that fits the pocketbook" and he might add "the finest protection sold."

Our new insurance man is Mr. E. Stenstrom and his phone number is 3356. He sells any and all types of Life Insurance for the Central Life Ins. Co., located in Chicago, and the finest of Health and Accident Insurance, including Hospitalization for the Plain Dealer, Mutual Casualty Co., likewise located in Chicago.

Stenstrom is not a high pressure salesman, but an ordinary family man who conscientiously works his business, and his business is good. Invite him in and make him welcome in Bradley.

ST. JOE YOUTH TO SPONSOR LEAP YEAR DANCE

Do you remember the good time you had at the annual Harvest Festival last fall, which the Young People of St. Joseph Parish sponsored? Well, if you do, and even if you missed the fun and only heard of it, you will be glad to hear the news. There's to be another ball, sponsored by the same organization, on the 27th of March. Let this be one of the "best bets" on your calendar for entertainment during Easter week.

This is also a chance for the fellows to be repaid for the burden they usually have to carry in "dating" the girl friend. Because this is one time the girl is supposed to date the man. Yes, we mean it's going to be a Leap Year Dance. The time is from 9 to 1, the place, the K. C. hall, the orchestra, Earl Betourne and his Earls of Sweet Swing. The date, as we've already mentioned, Wednesday, the twenty seventh of March.

Following are some of the rules to be followed by "Miss" taking "Mister" to the Leap Year Festival: She shall buy him a "courage." She shall take his arm when crossing the street. She shall stand aside so that he may enter ahead of her. She shall check his hat, coat, or scarf. She shall do the "cutting in." (Editor's note: But the rules don't say anything about the young lady buying an admission ticket for "date.")

General chairman for the affair is Miss Imelda Drassler. Committees and committee heads were formed as follows: Tickets, Misses Elaine Wright and Antonette Ludwig; refreshments, Misses Christine Krizan, Molly Starahinich, and Henrietta Legris; check room, Misses Ariene LaGesse, Wanda Dominick, and Mary Devore; and publicity, Miss Muriel Wright. Father Hugh V. O'Brien is in charge of the committees and arrangements.

Here's your chance, girls; you don't have to be bashful now! And look out, you males of the species! You may not be as wise as the famous "little fox"!

SOAP CARVING AT GIRL RESERVE MEETING

The Sixth Grade Girl Reserve club met for their weekly meeting Wednesday afternoon between 4:00 and 5:00 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. At this meeting the girls began a course in soap carving. Wayne West of the Kankakee Recreation Association Staff is conducting the class. The girls will continue with soap carving until their interest wanes.

These new restaurant-lounge-sleeping cars of novel design will be put into service March 3 between Natchez, Miss., and New Orleans and Natchez and Memphis, with convenient connections at Memphis for rail points north, east and west, J. V. Lanigan, passenger traffic manager of the Illinois Central, announced yesterday.

An observation platform, modern lounge, restaurant and six upper and lower berths are included in each car. The cars are air-conditioned and artistically decorated to carry out the theme of each car's name. Murals on the "Superland" tell the story of that crop, similarly the names of the other two cars, "Cottonland" and "Rice-land" have been illustrated in the decorations.

The cars which will be in service by the Natchez pilgrimages of homes and families leave Memphis at 8:30 p. m., arriving at Natchez at 4:30 a. m. and leave Natchez at 11:20 p. m.

(By Double Trouble) Howard Dill has now landed himself a blonde from Kankakee. Some guys have all the luck. Is it possible that Lenore Amiot knows that Whitey Lucas and Norma Walters are planning their future life already?

Eugene Green is certainly doing his best to keep pace with the latest hair "Do's". There is a rumor that Stanley Leezwich has a maiden troubling him by the attitude he has on this lovely weather we've been having the last few weeks.

Red Mulligan has just been informed what leap year means in the way of romance and is now playing hard to get. The only trouble with his little game is that Dorothy won't respond.

Bill Mulligan always heaves a big sigh when Gladys Hacker enters his view. Someday he may compete with Art Marlaire, and when he tries this people will be saying "Bill was really a nice boy up until the accident he should have known better." Maybe this is the reason he stays so long at her home when he goes to collect for the newspaper.

Leonard "Shakey" Martin and Wanda Deminick witnessed the midnight show beginning on the eve of February 24th and ending on the morn of Feb. 25th. Both arrived home very late on the morn of Feb. 25th and "Shakey" said he may be quoted as having said that he had a lovely time.

Beauty culture courses in beauty culture, Rosentretter and her sister, Russell, have opened a beauty salon in Carlinville. The girls, who are graduates of the National Youth Administration.

Carlinville (Special) — All this talk about girls invading male occupational fields is thrown into perspective by modern trends, because the women of vision are stepping into business once held exclusively by ladies, according to recent observations made by the National Youth Administration. Male beauticians, specializing in hair cutting of some other phase of beauty work, are not entirely new, but two-daring youths, Ngoman Rosentretter, 19, of Carlinville, and Russell, Schaefer, 21, of Lebanon, are going all the way with their idea. After getting diplomas as beauticians, they opened a salon here, with complete modern equipment, where milady can "get the works", as they say in the barber shop. As part of its program to provide opportunities to young people, the National Youth Administration arranged for the course at a Chicago beauty culture school when the youths were receiving other instruction at an NYA resident training center.

"We may have a lady attending to manicuring later, but we will do everything else ourselves," explained young Rosentretter. "We have taken a complete course in hair cutting, permanent waving, scalp treatments, facials and everything else. Now we are ready for business." "Why did we decide on beauty work? That's an easy one. It's a growing business and we see a good future in it. We do not regard it as a novelty; we intend to make it our life work. And if business goes well we intend to expand, to open other shops in other Illinois towns. Maybe it is the first beauty shop operated by males in this part of the state but—well, there's a first for everything."

And with that spirit young Rosentretter and his partner, Schaefer, picked up their combs and started. George, they set the most daring waves you ever set eyes on.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TO REDUCE SHIPPING OF COMMODITIES COST

Chicago, February 28.—To improve the distribution of commodities by simplifying procedure and reducing cost between producer and consumer—such is the purpose behind an experiment in freight rates which the Illinois Central System will make effective March 19.

Under the old plan, wholesalers, jobbers and other distributors have paid simple carload rates from the factories. Their central distribution points and then have been faced by several classifications of less-than-carload rates, some high, some low, insuring distribution in smaller lots among the retailers and storage points within their respective trade territories.

Under the new "streamline" arrangements, if the carloads are broken down, and distribution begun within forty-eight hours of receipt of the carload freight, then a single classification of less-than-carload rates will cover all the additional movements, and those rates will be the fourth-class rates—in other words, the lowest less-than-carload rates will cover all the additional movements, and those rates will be the fourth-class rates—in other words, the lowest less-than-carload rates that can be used.

"The effect should be to speed distribution and to lower costs," commented F. H. Law, traffic vice-president of the Illinois Central System. "The experiment for the time being will be confined to the trade areas served by Memphis, Tenn.; Jackson, Miss.; and Meridian, Miss." It will supplement our present overnight freight service from Chicago and St. Louis, as well as our existing fast schedules from Louisville and New Orleans.

Milk Foundation Builds for Increased Milk Consumption

For the thousands of boys and girls in the Chicago Area who have never had the opportunity of being on a dairy farm, or of even knowing exactly what a dairy cow looks like, the Milk Foundation, an educational health foundation, organized by members of the Pure Milk Association together with their co-operating dealers, has created its first of a series of projects. This project consists of taking a cow and her calf around to the hundreds of schools in Chicago and its suburbs and letting the youngsters get a first hand view of "Bossy" to see and learn just how milk is made. Then, after each visit, special graded literature on the nutritional importance of milk is sent to the schools where the teachers use it as a complete supplement to a series of health lessons. (In addition to such special literature, 38 "red star" requests received by the Foundation from teachers amount to well over 25,000 each school year. These, in turn, represent between 40-50 students per teacher or approximately 1,250,000 children.) Thus, we may be sure that the Milk Foundation school program is making for a more health-conscious and therefore, more milk-conscious community—all of which means that the dairy farmer has and will continue to have a steadily growing market for his product.

The benefits of such a school program cannot be overestimated. A health education organization such as the Milk Foundation, can, as Carl F. Deygenroth, manager, puts it, "help to bring about higher standards of physical health through spreading the knowledge of milk's nutritional value and in addition as milk consumption increases, the dairy farming communities become more prosperous."

Highway construction contracts awarded by the state during January totaled $1,480,427 and provide for 12 miles of pavement, six miles of grading, six bridges, one grade separation, six miles of pavement reconstruction, two miles of city street construction and the reconstruction of one bridge. In addition to the January awards, the Division of Highways had contracts in force on Feb. 1, for $10,196,672 of construction carried over from 1939. Ernst Lieberman, Chief Highway Engineer, said the construction program for 1940 will be equal to 1939 and will emphasize modernization of present highways.

Director J. H. Lloyd of the State Department of Agriculture, is asking Illinois beekeepers to examine their bees for dead colonies on the first day that bees are flying. He expresses a fear that the dry, fall and recent subzero temperatures may have caused heavy losses in Illinois bee colonies. The drought last fall prevented the flowers from yielding enough nectar to furnish bees with honey to last through the winter. Entrances to dead hives should be sealed and the hives removed to another building where the combs can be examined for brood diseases. Beekeepers who can not determine whether brood diseases are present should call for an inspector from the Department of Agriculture, Director Lloyd says.

First articles of furniture to be placed in the restored courthouse at Mt. Pulaski are an 1850 walnut desk and an old walnut bookcase which duplicate furnishings in the building during the 1840's and '50's when Lincoln practiced law there. They were purchased from private collections by the Division and will later be supplemented by other articles. The courthouse was purchased from the city of Mt. Pulaski in 1936 for one dollar and has been restored at a cost of $30,000. In the year that it has been open to the public, 3,000 persons have visited it.

radio broadcasts last month resulted in the recovery of 253 stolen automobiles valued at $125,000. State Police broadcasts during January also brought about the location of 104 missing persons, apprehension of 83 criminals and recovery of 67 stolen articles. A new booster station is now in operation at Peoria in addition to the seven stations at Chicago, DuQuoin, Effingham, Sterling, Macomb, Pontiac, and Springfield and the East St. Louis booster station.

Traffic accidents on Illinois city streets and country highways brought death to 172 persons during January, according to the State Division of Highways.

Loss of life last month, however, was 13 per cent below January 1939, a reduction established in the face of a 7.3 percent increase in traffic volume. Illinois motorists last month averaged only one fatality per 7,958,000 miles despite slippery roads, low temperatures and snowfall 60 per cent above the State's average for the month.

Output of Illinois shipping companies during January was more than 27 per cent greater than during the preceding month and 24 per cent greater than in January, 1939. Production last month totaled 5,522,243 tons.

Miners employed in January, increased over the 26,002 men working in December. The average number of days worked also increased to 21.8 from the 18 of the preceding month.

was an appeal for power. Party labels were emphasized, rather than party principles.

Yet on one point there was agreement. All the speeches which went out over the radio agreed that the coming election is the most important the Nation has faced in three quarters of a century, that the nine or twelve millions of unemployed demand the right to work and the chance to work—and yet not one word of how they are to be furnished work or the suggestion of a plan to give them the inalienable right to a job.

Out at their listening posts, these millions waited in vain for some word that would lead them from the wilderness. That word did not come. They heard much of "Keep the party of Jackson in power" and more of "Give the Nation back to the party of Lincoln"—as though the keeping in power of the party which has failed to bring relief for seven years would solve the problem, or the change to the party of Lincoln would miraculously settle the whole matter.

These men are hungry. They are tired of inaction. They are filled full of promises.

Were Andrew Jackson still alive, he would be in the forefront of the battle to give work to the unemployed. Were Abraham Lincoln here, he would be the first to declare that this country cannot exist, half on bread lines and half in luxury. He would be the first to declare that a nation able to produce more wealth than any other nation, should have the courage promptly to distribute that wealth.

The one hopeful note was the speech of William Allen White, who disqualified all partisan candidates for President and declared that once again, the people "should choose as our leader a humble man, and kindly, purged of all vanity." Which eliminates all the candidates so far suggested in either party.

Yet for five years the doctrine of the Townsend Plan has been carried to the country and the voters have listened. They refuse to be herded to the polls like sheep and vote for party labels; they are Townsendites and demand that one or both of these parties stand for a real solution to its one great problem, the problem of unemployment. They are demanding that youth be given its opportunity and that the six millions of young men and women be given their chance.

They are demanding that the Townsend Plan—the one program which offers solution, be enacted. They are Americans. They are against all foreign "isms." They are carrying their battle to every Congressional District, where the people have a chance to win, in the greatest of non-partisan crusades the Nation has ever witnessed.

YOUTH DEMANDS JOBS

When Superintendent of Public Instruction John W. Studebaker announced four years ago that there were six million young men and women in this country who were out of school and out of work little attention was paid to this information.

Today, that same statement and the same situation challenge every statesman and legislator. For Youth no longer will be denied. It is asking what this Nation is going to do about it, and wants that answer now.

Young people say that work in Conservation camps, with wages sent to their jobless parents, is no answer at all.

They assert that idleness on relief will satisfy no longer. They reject the alternative of lives as loafers as the only thing that richest of Nations can offer. They want work.

In particular, the young women of this Nation are demanding that they be given a chance to use their education and training. They believe that a high school or college diploma should qualify them for something better than work as a chambermaid or a waitress, when such jobs open. This situation has, at a long hardship that it would never occupy the time and attention of women. For that, he was called a dreamer and worse.

But today, every prediction he made has come true. The pay day for national stupidity has arrived. The march of inescapable events in making the Townsend Plan inevitable and also inescapable—if America is to be saved.

TOWNSEND CLUBS

Bradley Club No. 1.

Mrs. Agnes Marion and Miss Dorothy Knickerbocker went to Yorkville to speak at a Townsend meeting Tuesday night. They were accompanied by Mrs. Pahnke, Mrs. Dora Knickerbocker and Mr. T. I. Magruder.

BILL H. R. 8264

Oh, our Bill, we must put through. So we can have prosperous times And people will have work to do, And there will not be so many

If there is plenty of work for all, People will not need to resort to crime,

To obtain the wherewithal, To feed their bodies prime.

People will have higher aspirations And can hope for things sublime, And can make preparations, Greater heights to climb.

Young people can dream of ideals high, And once more follow the call, That will bring them very high To careers, for which they would give their all.

For that is the way it will be, If Bill H. R. 8264 is adopted as a law, And we can feel that we are free, From this awful depression's claw. By Hejen Allford.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

The Woman's Relief Corps met as usual Friday morning for quilting and luncheon at noon. At 2:00 o'clock a short business session was held after which Rev. E. E. Atherton pastor of the First M. E. church delivered an address on the life of Abraham Lincoln. During the meeting the birthdays of 10 of the members was observed. Mrs. Eliza Albright was awarded the attendance prize. Refreshments were served from a candlelight table future of the Milk Marketing Order, trucking, PMA's plant program and advertising program. All of these in addition to the annual reports of President Eckhoff, General Manager Arthur M. Lauterbach, Treasurer E. E. Houghtby, Comptroller R. P. Alexander, and Secretary Charles M. Cosgrove.

Guest speaker of the day will be B. F. Beach, Secretary-Manager of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association with headquarters at Detroit. For many years Mr. Beach has guided the Michigan Milk Producers' Association and his outstanding work as a cooperative leader is recognized throughout the United States. Detroit market problems are similar to those of the Chicago market, and all PMA members will find Mr. Beach has a worthwhile story of how Michigan farmers meet surplus, plant and trucking problems.

Annual Women's Luncheon Ladies of the Pure Milk Association will as usual hold their annual luncheon in the Gold Room of the Congress Hotel, and all ladies desiring to attend should secure tickets from their District Director Local President or Secretary. Luncheon tickets are 65 cents each.

Mrs. Raymond Sayre, President of the American Country Life Association, Vice president of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and State Chairman of the Woman's Committee of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation will talk at the Women's Luncheon. Her topic will be "FACING UP TO OUR PROBLEMS."

The message of Mrs. Sayre should be of extreme importance to all ladies of the Pure Milk Association. She is a farmer's wife, lives at Ackworth, Iowa, and has been active in farm affairs for many years, starting at the bottom when the Farm Bureau was first organized in her county, working up through positions of township chairman, county chairman, and now in her fourth year as State Chairman of the Woman's Committee of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation. Her talk will not be just theory, for she lives on a 600-acre livestock farm 35 miles southeast of Des Moines and is the mother of

Bathing in the Ganges

It may seem queer, but one of the most interesting "sights" at Benares, in India, is that of the hundreds of pilgrims who bathe in the "holy" river, Ganges, and in its waters perform their religious devotions. Half a million pilgrims arrive at this city annually some, royally, on the backs of elephants, others in fourth-class railway carriages and thousands on foot. The city seems full of gods holy men, temples and pilgrims. Almost any hour of the early morning, thousands of white-clad pilgrims and worshippers crowd the stairways which go down the river, in which they stand, rapt and droning their prayers.

ROADS AND ROLLING WRITERS

Almost every literate person at one time or another is driven by an inner urge to express himself. Pen in hand, he dreams of his name engraved on the honor roll of immortal writers. Shakespeare, Dickens and Mark Twain are boon companions in his reverie. The urge may be a mere flicker or it may lead to a course in college journalism. Every high school or college student who has studied short story writing, a subject taught almost universally in American schools, remembers one emphatic rule, "write about your own backyard." He is cautioned above all else to describe or interpret only that locality with which he is familiar. But the would-be writer often feels that his own "backyard" is lacking in characters and color, material for stories. The amateur is not alone in his conviction. Great professional writers have felt the need of more varied experience and a more diverse range of setting.

W. Somerset Maugham, acclaimed by many critics as the greatest living novelist, wandered far from his English shores in quest of material. From his pen flowed

Milady's Fans Many museums maintain fine collections; others display fans in the costume section along with the costumes that they enhanced in one such collection one may see the mother-of-pearl fan, ribboned together, that accompanies the lustrous lavender gown of stiff silk worn by a certain great lady at the White House. Or an ancient fan of horn, nine and a half inches high of the type in vogue during the French Empire period, suggests stately court functions—or whispered court gossip.
